Hair Loss in Women

Excessive hair loss can occur in women as well as men and can occur at different ages. Stress, dieting and pregnancy can affect the condition of the hair, as well as using hair styling products. During menopause hormonal changes can strongly affect the condition of the hair and scalp. The hair growth is slower and the hair splits more easily. Many women experience hair loss during this phase.

Hair Loss in Men

Hair loss at a young age is quite common in men and is in most cases hereditary. Thinning hair and a receding hairline are often the first signs of reduced hair growth. In old age, hair loss in men is usually caused by hormonal fluctuations or a deficiency of certain vitamins and minerals.

HairGro® Hair Care Capsules

Hairgro® Hair Care Capsules have been specifically developed for men and women. They contain a.o. Fenugreek extract, biotin, zinc, selenium and copper. These ingredients nourish root of the hair and contribute to maintaining healthy hair. Folate contributes to production of cells and tissues. The capsules have been developed according to the latest scientific insights and have a 100% natural composition.

Good for your hair:

1. Biotin, zinc and selenium contribute to normal hairgrowth.
2. Copper contributes to normal hairpigmentation.
3. Folate contributes to the process of cell renewal.
